All Faculty Teaching in the New McMurrin (Contact: B. Copley)

Earlier this week, an information page on new technology in the New McMurrin Hall classrooms was sent out via email, <http://support.cnu.edu/index.php?pg=kb.page&id=286> . The first two faculty training dates have been set aside for those teaching in New McMurrin next semester. Please contact Barbara Copley, bcopley@cnu.edu, to sign up for a day and time. Keys will be issued after each training session.

We will open several classrooms on Friday during an Open House event so that any faculty interested in the new classrooms will have a chance to look around and ask questions. We will also provide more training for those who are unavailable on Wednesday and Thursday.

Wednesday, Jan. 6

9am-4pm - sessions start every half hour

Thursday, Jan. 7

9am-4pm - sessions start every half hour

Friday, Jan. 8

10am-2pm - Open House

Training sessions all day by appointment.

There are over 100 faculty to train in just 3 days. This will make training in groups the only way to ensure everyone has what they need to operate the equipment. Please do sign up for a time as soon as possible. We are very excited about the technology available to you in this building and greatly appreciate your cooperation.
